

Leonello Sabatini
Curriculum Vitae

L. Sabatini was born in Chiusi in 1952 and got the master degree in nuclear engineer at Pisa University.

From 1981 he designs solutions in controlled contamination plant and cleanroom technology, developing new innovative technical solutions and physical model for space particle distributions and transport.

He is CEO and technical director of Lesatec s.r.l., an Italian company founded in 1996. The core activities of Lesatec are design, realization and qualification of controlled contamination plants and equipments for pharmaceutical, electronic, bio-technology and food industry. A big experience is also been gained in hospital sector and Physical Classified Laboratories.

He is a member of ASCCA, association in which he was for ten years scientific coordinator and secretary and than editorial Manager of the magazine ASCCA News

Other assignments :

- Co Director ICEB courses Politecnico di Milano.
- Visiting professor at the Polytechnic of Milan, where he presences training courses and lections for master degree.
- Italian delegate for UNI in working group 1/3/4/5/6 of Technical Committee ISO 209.
- Member of AFI, the Italian association of pharmaceutical industry, where he is the and coordinator of Risk Assessment studying group for machines and pharmaceutical processes.

- Board member of Serpero Foundation with jurisdiction over industrial investments aimed at the pharmaceutical research and the consolidation of the assets.